Frat Houses To Be Used By University

Women Students May Be Housed In Buildings

Buildings formerly housing fraternities at the University may be taken over in the fall to accommodate women students if necessary, President Herman L. Donovan has announced.

A possible housing shortage is seen for the fall quarter as a result of the housing of soldiers in Patterson hall, former freshmen women's dormitory.

One house has already been turned over to the University, and 10 or 12 more, depending on the enrollment, may be needed, Dr. Donovan said.

Jewell hall and possibly Boyd hall will be utilized by women in the fall, according to Dean of Women Sarah B. Holmes. In any event the women will continue to eat in the Boyd hall dining room.

Five sorority houses, Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Gamma Delta, Delta Delta Delta, Zeta Tau Alpha, and Kappa Delta, in addition to the Hamilton and Shelby houses, are housing women students for the summer, Dean Holmes said.

Kernel Calls Staff Workers

All students interested in working on The Kernel this summer are requested to attend a meeting at 1:30 p. m. today in the office in the sub-basement of McVey hall.

No experience is necessary, merely interest. Positions to be filled are news editor, managing editor, columnist, sports writer, society writer, and news reporters.

YM-YW To Hold Meet

A combined meeting of the YM and YW will be held from 6:30 to 7:15 p. m. Tuesday in the Y lounge of the Union building. All students and soldiers are invited to attend.

Full Recreational Program Offered For Summer Term

A full program of recreational activities is being offered without credit or additional tuition fees to regular summer quarter students during both terms, Miss Margaret Warren has announced.

The activities are primarily designed for those who wish to acquire certain skill and teaching technique in the respective sports as well as to provide enjoyable recreational activities.

Archery class will meet at the fifth hour, Tuesday and Thursday, in the GA building. Social Dancing class will be held from 8:00 until 10 p. m. Monday, Wednesday, and Friday in the BH building. Tennis for men and women is set at seventh hour, Tuesday and Thursday, in the GA building. Volley ball for men will meet from 12:00 until 1:30, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday in the GA building. Bowling is scheduled at the

Gregor Ziemer Set For First Convocation

Gregor Ziemer, radio commentator, will address the first convocation of the 1943 summer quarter at 10 a. m. Thursday, June 24, in Memorial hall.

All third hour classes which run under the summer quarter from 9:40 to 11:05 and classes run under the regular quarter from 10:00 to 10:50 will be dismissed for the occasion.

Mr. Ziemer served 11 years as head of the American colony school in Berlin before joining radio station WLW as European commentator. In this position he was allowed to visit Nazi schools, maternity homes, and hospitals, where he gathered the material for his recently published book "Education for Death," a current best seller on the Nazi educational system.

As a newspaper correspondent, Ziemer traveled extensively throughout Europe. He has interviewed Hitler and his party leaders and has watched the development of National Socialism from the start. Previously Ziemer lived in the Philippines and has visited Japan, China, India, Dutch East Indies, Persia and Egypt. He knows intimately the setting for every theater of war in the world.

Since his return to the United States, Ziemer has lectured at colleges and schools and appeared before hundreds of public gatherings.

The public is invited to the convocation.

Gregor Ziemer

Movie Scheduled For Monday Night

"Are Husbands Necessary?" will be the bill of fare for the movie program to be held at 5:45 p. m. Monday in the Union building. The picture will star Ray Milland and Betty Fields.

Admission will be ten cents and all students and soldiers are invited to attend.

Monday, June 28 two showings of the feature picture are scheduled. The first showing will be at 5:45 p. m. for all soldiers and any students who care to attend. The second running is scheduled for 8 p. m.

1,018 Registered As Of Thursday

Registration figures for the first session of the summer quarter stood at 1,018 yesterday, with enrollment scheduled to close at 5 p. m., Monday.

Women students outnumber the men approximately two to one. The total enrollment for the first session last summer was 1,821.

Union Dance Is Saturday Night

The first shirt-sleeve dance of the summer quarter will last from 8:30 to 11:30 Saturday night in the Bluegrass room of the Union.

Invitations have been issued to all University students, including soldiers. Women are requested to present their Union identification cards at the door. Dress will be informal and admission free. Music will be furnished by a nickelodeon.

QUESTION: What is your solution to the problem of keeping cool this summer?

Louise Woods, Commerce, senior: Having a refrigerator in the classrooms.

Joe Holland, A&S, freshman: I haven't found any.

June Hubbard, A&S, sophomore: Sitting on an ice pack eating Eskimo pies.

Peggy Hartman, A&S, junior: I don't bother.

June Byars, A&S, senior: Think about going swimming while in class.

Mary Underwood, Commerce, senior: Fan and think about the north pole.

Pfc. Julius Gerstenhaber, Fort Phoenix: Just don't let it bother you.

Sgt. Cliff Gillette, Patterson hall: No solution.

Bonnie Miller, Commerce, senior: Are you kidding?

Johnny Jenkins, Engineering, sophomore: Drinking cool beverages.

David Drye, A&S, freshman: Finding a shady place.

Come And Get Them Soldier Boys; Date Bureau On The Way At Last

By Celia Bederman

"I'll take an 18-year-old blond—five feet four and 110 pounds." An apparition from one of a soldier's better dreams? No, merely, a shade of things to come when the campus date bureau gets under way soon.

Gone are Soldier Pete's lonely week-ends and furtive whistling at comely coeds. A date to suit his every desire will be his for the requesting at the UK Date Bureau.

To guarantee satisfaction to all participating in the program, the committee has drawn up applications for men and women desiring to date.

The blank for women asks for name, age, height, weight (minimize if you will), hair color, religion, sorority, home address, Lexington address, and preferred social activities.

Men will be asked to list name, post-office box number, age, height, weight, nationality, religion, former college (if any), fraternity, home address, former occupation, preferred social activities, and local address.

These applications will be placed on file with the bureau. When a special event is in the offing, the soldier will go to the desk in the Union and put in his order for a gal that measures up to his specifications. A member of the Date Bureau will contact the girl that fills the order, give her the info on the prospect, and ask for a decision.

Dates will be arranged only for University-sponsored activities. When it comes to future dates in town, the fellows will be on their own.

From the feminine viewpoint the only snag in the plan is that the date-requesting is to be entirely one-sided. Some eager females have already voiced their disapproval on this point.

The first dates will be for a big "Get-Together." Good sportsmanship and cooperation are requested of all comers.

Girls will fill out applications at the dorms, sorority houses, and the Union on Monday, June 21st, and Tuesday, June 22nd.

Members of the joint committee in charge of the program are Caroline Spicer, Hazel Weakley, Jane Denny, Jeannette Graves, Joseph M. Robertson, Co. C. Patt hall, Robert P. Rich, Co. C Patt hall, Harry H. Orr, Co. A Breckenridge hall, Bruce Fay Irvine, Co. B Bradley hall, and Dick F. Faulkner, Co. B Bradley hall.

Lt. Col. Richard G. Elliott, MC, Lexington, has been assigned to command the 63rd Medical Training Battalion. He previously commanded the 51st Battalion. Col. Elliott received his A.B. from the University in 1928 and was graduated in medicine from Vanderbilt university in 1932.

Second Lieut. Harry T. Bryant, Eminence, Ky., has reported to the Carlsbad Army Air Field, Carlsbad, N. M., where he will attend the Air Forces Central Instructors School for Bombardiers. Lt. Bryant is regularly stationed at the Big Spring, Texas, Bombardier School, where he is a bombardier instructor. Lt. Bryant is a former student of the University.

Charles N. Tarkington, Moreland, Ky., was recently commissioned a second lieutenant at the Medical Administrative Corps officer candidate graduation, Camp Barkeley, Texas. Lieutenant Tarkington received his degree from the University.

A recent graduate of the Carlsbad Army Air Field school of navigation was Second Lieut. Mark Ingram, Versailles, Ky. Lieutenant Ingram received his bombardier wings upon graduation from the Albuquerque, N. M., Bombardier School. Lieutenant Ingram is a former University student.

Capt. James F. McConnell, a member of the class of 1940, is now assigned to the Freeman Army Air Field, advanced twin engine flying school, Seymour, Ind. Captain McConnell entered the service in 1941, and took his flying training at Lakeland, Florida and at Cochran Field, Georgia.

Aviation Cadet William Blanton, of Wallins Creek, Ky., was a student at the University when he entered the U. S. Army in 1942 where he served as an enlisted man until he was accepted as an aviation cadet in the Army Air Forces in March, 1943. Cadet Blanton is now an upperclassman at Maxwell Field, Alabama.

Lt. Robert U. Gaines, Jr., Hopkinsville, received his pilot's wings May 24, from the Blackland Flying School, Texas. Lt. Gaines was graduated from the University in electrical engineering in 1941.

Ad Libbing

By Betty Lee Fleishman

With the announcement in the Lexington Herald earlier this week that a total of nine hundred and one students had registered for the first term of the summer quarter, we are glad that we finally overcame all summer inertia and decided to add our presence to the campus of the University. Thanks to that fact, and that alone all Kentuckians could proudly claim on that day that over nine hundred students enrolled for this summer's session.

Down at the county jail the other day we were informed that the "celebrity cell" on the east end of that structure was being reserved for "88" Keyes after his ultimate capture by our favorite detective. However we have heard that Chester Gould, author of that thrilling comic strip, has had eighty-seven previous offers to house the dangerous "88." We are now waiting breathlessly to hear that our own beloved county jail shall be the chosen structure and so honored. But that can wait as "88" is still giving music lessons to the farmer's daughter.

After laughing at the ancient Greek astrologers for believing the world to be flat, we discovered the following substantiating proof: "Morning Herald, Feb. 3, 1901, Lexington: LOCAL ASTROLOGER SAYS EARTH IS FLAT — Joseph Claburn says his theories are inspired. Everything is electricity and love. He has found definite proof that the world is not round." (Thus, by our own calculations, when you step off from a point east of Charleston, S. C., you should fall into an endless, formless mass of nothing.)

We have long been aware of the fact that the comic strips have begun the rapid march toward complete and absolute deterioration, but when we saw in Tuesday's Lexington Leader where Deathless Deer separated the eggs for a cake by placing one at each end of the table, we immediately gulped down the arsenic which we had been saving for Hitler and decided to spend the rest of our days playing hop scotch in Ugatan.

Here is a bit of good news for the co-eds at the University: There are only three girls to every boy enrolled in the regular classes. (It was previously expected that the girls would outnumber the boys five-to-one). Now, isn't that nice!

With the eyes of the whole world focused on whether Daisy Mae is now Mrs. One-Fault Jones or not, it brings to mind that only one short year ago we were all tormented to learn whether the same individual in question was to be condemned to live a loveless life married to a Big Barnsmell.

The knowledge that Big Barnsmell finally went back to his barn leaving our heroine still a free woman, gives us hope that Daisy Mae will yet be able to spend her old age chasing L'il Abner.

The Presses Roll

We present today the first edition of The Kernel for the summer quarter. To you who know the regular Kernel this paper will seem quite unfamiliar. Circumstances dictate a smaller format, the tabloid size for our warm-months publication.

The Kernel, besides having fewer columns and less length, is going in for experimentation. Frankly we intend to enjoy ourselves by indulging in different type faces in each issue and unorthodox makeup.

Another major change is in the type which you are now reading. All material on this page is printed in larger type, and we believe more readable type, than the rest of the paper.

Our aim for the summer, though we will be handicapped by a limited staff, is to present full campus news coverage. We must ration the space allotted to each story, but we assure you that all necessary details will be included.

The Kernel is your newspaper. If you like it or if you don't like it, please let us know. Your letters and your contributions will be welcome. If you want to work for us our latchkey is permanently on the outside.

Relax, Relax, Relax

We have always held that the summer months were made for just one thing—vacationing. The mere intoning of the words June, July, and August bring pictures of lazy afternoons at the beach—long mornings of sleep.

But enough of day-dreaming. The reality for all of us is a summer of study. Some of us are going to school by choice, some by necessity. No matter our reasons — hot days spent in classrooms call for some amount of recreation.

The University has recognized the desire and the need for recreation by planning a full program of social and sports activities for our benefit.

Whether your bent is toward reading, music, tennis, softball, singing, movies, or dancing, events have been planned for you. Full details of these activities will be found on our news pages.

May we remind you that a good way to forget the heat is to relax on the mental activity once in a while. Take advantage of the social opportunities that the University offers.

A personal tip to you all is that the local swimming pool is but a short bus ride away. A "jump in the drink" will beat the heat of any torrid day.

Gone With The Rationing Points

By Carolyn Hill

And then there are the dorm girls who think that every time they pay their room and board they are entitled to a free pass to the kitchen after 12.

This time the laugh is on the girls. Armed with flashlights, two charming coquettes from Jewell hall tripped lightly down the steps into the corridor leading to the kitchen, already dreaming of the tasties of which they were about to partake.

Proceeding to the top of the steps, the young damsels met quite an obstacle, one locked door about seven feet high. Experienced from observing the soldiers on the obstacle course, one scrambled madly over the top, dropping into the hunting ground.

Wildly rushing to the refrigerator for one of those delicious chocolate milks, our heroine found the doors standing wide open. With a gasp, she ran from one refrigerator to another. Woe!! They were all in the same condition—empty.

Dejected and forlorn, this creature sadly crawled back to her room. Miss Limbach had let her down, no food, no midnight snacks, no more excursions to the kitchen.

Girls, observe carefully the moral of this little story—save your energy for bigger projects—there is no food in the kitchen in the summer. Tough luck, you'll have to wait until the fall quarter.

Soldier Laments Passing Of Co-eds From Campus

Dear Coed of U. of K.:

When we, the soldiers living on the University grounds, arrived from our camps all over the country, most of us were stunned by the fact that we would be able to associate with the fairer sex despite the fact that our general order No. 2 tries to restrict us considerably.

We felt that no longer would the weekdays be monotonous with every person in the camp wearing the same G. I. green fatigue suit. Light-colored printed skirts and sweaters would brighten the background of each successive day.

After having spent four weeks with you on the campus, dear coed, I have been accustomed to many things.

While marching our chests have been thrust out, simply because that "red-head" at the corner might perchance look our way.

Gone is your familiar scampering off the sidewalk when a group of soldiers comes marching by.

Gone are your imitative "hut, toop, treep, fob" which was always counted on the wrong foot and consequently got us out of step.

Gone are the pleasant minutes spent with you at the soda fountain in the SUB during lunch and supper time.

Gone are the introductions which invariably follow when one's buddy has met a new coed just five minutes before.

Gone is the familiar "what are you doing this Saturday night, Mary Jane?"

Gone are the week-ends on which we sat on the bluegrass and chattered idly about nothing.

Gone is the prohibitive yelling and whistling through the windows facing Patt and Boyd hall.

All these things and many others are gone, but not forgotten.

You, dear coed, have made it possible for many a weary soldier to go on with his truly tough schedule.

I, and my fellow soldiers, know how much you girls had to give up in order to make it possible for us to come here. But we doubly appreciate your efforts in making our stay a pleasant one.

I won't forget you so quickly. And all of us are looking forward to seeing you back on the campus this coming fall.

School is really dull without you.

Yours,

Peter B. Black, Co. C

(Ed's Note: Maybe it is your irresistible personality, Pete. From our window it looks like the Mary Janes are flocking back to brighten up your summer.)

Arts, Crafts Course Is Being Offered To Summer Students

A non-credit course in arts and crafts, designed to assist amateur craftsmen in perfecting various types of creative design, is being offered during the first term of the Summer quarter at the University, it was announced by Miss Anne W. Callahan, acting head of the department of art.

Arts and crafts to be taught include poster designing, weaving, development of textile designs and their application to material, printing by silk screen method, linoleum and wood block printing, and batik.

The course is open to townspeople, with a fee of $5 payable to the University for the regular five and one-half weeks course. The class meets from 8:25 to 12:30 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and other classes may be taken by appointment. The course is open to regular-registered full-time students without any extra charge.

McVeys Come Back From Venezuela

Dr. Frank L. McVey, president emeritus of the University, and Mrs. McVey returned to Lexington this week after having spent nearly three months in Venezuela, where Dr. McVey assisted in developing plans for a model university city at Caracas, capital of the South American country.

The night before their departure by plane for Miami, the McVeys were guests of honor at a formal dinner given by the minister of public works and the minister of national education.

Palmore Heads Alumni Group

H. D. Palmore, lass of '14, Frankfort construction engineer, has been elected president of the University Alumni Association, it was recently announced at a luncheon for the '43 graduating class. Mr. Palmore is a member of the University board of trustees and the board's executive committee. He succeeds G. Lee McClain, Bardstown.

Other officers elected are: Dr. E. Cronley Elliot, Lexington, '02, vice-president; T. H. Cutler, Frankfort, '03, and William Blanton, Paris, '24, re-elected executive committeemen; Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, Lexington, '03, and Miss Ethel S. Rix, '34, re-elected to serve as executive secretary and office secretary, respectively. Capt. J. S. Shropshire, now stationed in the Southwest Pacific, was re-elected treasurer. Miss Helen King is the acting treasurer in Capt. Shropshire's absence.

Lose your temper and lose your point.

Mandate—Rare campus animal, now becoming extinct.

Bull Awarded Rockefeller Grant

A Rockefeller fellowship to do graduate work in southern manuscript and economic materials has been granted to Miss Jacqueline Bull, Lexington, a member of the University library staff.

The research, which will involve considerable traveling in southern states, will be calculated to train Miss Bull as an archivist and librarian. It will be carried on under the direction of Dr. Thomas D. Clark, acting head of the University history department.

Danforth Awards Given To Two

Elizabeth Hickman, home economics junior from Woodburn, and Alice Freeman, home economics freshman from Lexington, have been awarded Danforth Summer fellowships. These awards are based upon qualities of scholarship, potential leadership, health, and religious development.

Miss Hickman will spend two weeks in St. Louis, Mo., studying industrial food production problems. Both of the girls will spend two weeks at Camp Miniwance, Mich., for leadership training.

Buckley, Sallee, Former Students, Die In Crashes

Two former students of the University, Pilot Officer Sid Buckley of the Royal Canadian Air Force, and Lieut. Phillip R. Sallee Jr., U. S. Army Air Force, died in recent airplane crashes.

A 1939 graduate of the University, Buckley's plane crashed in the province of Quebec. Former editor of the Kentuckian and president of the student body, Buckley, before his enlistment in the RCAF in March, 1942, was employed in advertising in Cincinnati and by the Huntington Publishing Company, Huntington, Ind.

Lieut. Sallee was killed in the crash of a heavy plane from the Dalhart Army Air Base near Texline, Texas. Entering the service in May, 1942, Sallee received his wings and commission in the Air Force last January 6 at Douglas Field, Arizona. Lieut. Sallee attended the University for two years prior to his enlistment in the Air Forces as an aviation cadet.

Dr. Thomas D. Clark To Talk At Reading Invitation Series

Rivers Of America Will Be Subject

Dr. Thomas D. Clark, head of the University history department, will speak on "Rivers of America," at 3 p. m. Tuesday, June 22, in the library's browsing room, in the second of the "Invitation to Reading" series. The series is under sponsorship of the University library staff.

Subsequent speakers in the summer series and their subjects include Miss Anne Worthington Callihan, assistant professor of art at the University, "Early Kentucky Craftsmen," Wednesday, June 30; Miss Grace Snodgrass, Experiment Station librarian, "Mediterranean Background," Tuesday, July 6; Dr. Francoise Dany, fellow of the Belgian-American Educational Foundation, professor of Brussels University and lecturer at Franco-Belgian University at New York, "Books and Their Meaning for Freedom," Monday, July 12; Dr. F. G. Davenport, head of the Transylvania College history department, "Notes on American Culture," Tuesday, July 27, and John Cutler, University English department, "Song of the Folk," Wednesday, Aug. 4.

Seventy-five persons attended the opening lecture this week by Mrs. Herndon Wagers, dean of women and assistant professor of history at Transylvania College and afterwards inspected the U. D. C. exhibition now on display in the library.

UK Rifle Team Places Third

ROTC Ranked Third In Nation

The Rifle team of the senior ROTC unit at the University placed third among 26 entries in the nation in the Intercollegiate Rifle Team Matches for 1943, Col. B. E. Brewer has announced.

The matches were fired under the supervision of the national board for the promotion of rifle practice.

To be eligible to enter the intercollegiate matches, the teams finish first, second, or third in their various service commands. The University team placed second among teams in the Fifth Service Command last season, winning 31 of 33 matches.

Medals were awarded the 17 members of the team by the military department. Men on the team and the medals for which they qualified were:

First Language Doctorate Awarded

The first doctor of philosophy degree to be awarded by the Romance languages department at the University was conferred on Mrs. Winona Stevens Jones, of Transylvania college, at the University's commencement exercises, June 4. Mrs. Jones did her major work in French.

The Romance Language department was given the authority to grant the Ph.D. degree by the graduate faculty approximately a year ago, in accordance with standards set by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, Dr. Hobart Ryland, head of the department, stated. At that time five of the romance language faculty held their doctor's degree.
